COMPENSATION COST BOOSTED BY OHIO BOARD

Dwindling Workmen's Insurance Fund Causes 17 Per Cent Increase

JOB DECREASE BLAMED

Industrial Commission Faces Difficult Task of Operating Without Loss

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O July 13—An average basic rate increase of 17 per cent for workmen's compensation assessments was put into force today by the Ohio Industrial commission as a result of increased drains on reserves and the decrease in payments due in part to unemployment.

The revision of rates charged employers on the basis of their pay rolls shows increases in 345 classifications decreases in 37 and no change in 200 other. The general trend of the accident experiences of some classifications during the past year has more than offset the rate increases in some cases and equaled the raise in others the commission explained.

Among some of the more hazardous occupations in which the accident experience in recent months has not been favorable the increase amounts to 28 per cent.

The rate increases were effective as of July 1 1932 but the basic rates were not announced until the commission had completed its schedules.

Operating at Loss

The reductions in employment and of wage levels in 1932 caused the disbursements to exceed the receipts in the fund by $4 532 310 40. In 1930 the disbursements were $2 160 274 13 greater than the receipts.

Total assessments of the industrial fund were reduced $5 345 784 during 1931 the commission reported and the reserves for incomplete claims was cut $3 109 656 68.

The statutory catastrophe reserve has been reduced from $2 346 899 06 to $1 883 563 35 due in a great measure to the heavy drain upon the fund from claims of injured employes of those employers having failed to insure in the fund and being financially irresponsible. The fund is required to furnish compensation to the injured or their dependants after a serious accident the commission said.

Reduction of the general surplus from $2 117 962 22 to $750 568 38 during 1931 is the result of factors accompanying the industrial depression which is giving the workmen's compensation principle throughout the entire country a severe test and grave con

HOUSE APPROVAL PUT ON NEW RELIEF BILL

Lower Chamber Ignores Senate Measure for Plan Favored by Hoover.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 13—The house passed the $2 122 000 000 relief bill drafted along lines approved by President Hoover.

Just a few minutes before passage Speaker Garner cast the deciding vote and broke a tie on the Rainey amendment to force the Reconstruction Finance corporation to file monthly reports on all loans made under the new relief bill. He voted for the amendment.

The roll call vote on the Rainey amendment before the speaker cast his ballot was 169 to 169.

In passing its own relief measure the house thrust aside the senate's relief bill passed last night because of President Hoover's objection to some phases.

This course was taken to expedite action. The senate is expected to immediately consider the house measure. If it does not agree the bill will be sent to conference where the difficulties are to be ironed out.

Final action is expected by late today or tonight.

Representative Rainey Democrat of Illinois majority leader said today he understood the President objected to the provision in the new senate bill providing for loans to individuals from federal reserve banks.

Senator Glass Democrat of Virginia said however he had been informed by two administration leaders Secretary Mills and Governor Meyer of the federal reserve board that they favored the loans to individuals clause.

SUFFERING CAUSED BY RAIL WALKOUT

By The Associated Press

NOGALES Ariz. July 13—A pitiful story of hundreds of families facing starvation as the result of the prolonged strike of employes of the Southern Pacific of Mexico railroad spurred efforts here today to restore transportation facilities.

Since employes walked out more than two weeks ago in protest against wage cuts the west coast of Mexico has been without transportation facilities.

Reports brought here said provisions in many of the small villages have been completely exhausted.

ROOSEVELT CRUISES INTO SMITH WATERS

Vacationing Governor Points Nose of Craft Toward Massachusetts Port.

By The Associated Press

WITH GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT STONINGTON Conn July 13—Governor Franklin D Roosevelt bearing an olive branch got his good ship Myth II ready today for a further cruise into Al Smith waters.

A light southwest wind carried the craft out of the harbor into Long Island sound at 9 15 a m after a night in which there was scarcely a ripple on the water.

His goal today is Wood's Hole Mass the state where Smith strength is notable. Last night after he had dropped anchor here he greeted J Harold McGrath Democratic state chairman from Rhode Island and referred to that state's support of Smith at the national convention.

"I not only understand" he said "but greatly appreciate Rhode Island standing by our old friend Governor Smith and I know now I am going to receive the same display of loyalty."

Governor Roosevelt steered his craft 50 miles through the sound yesterday from Morris Cove Conn as the yawl anchored in a glowing sunset, pleasure craft of many kinds hovered about. The governor his face red from the sun, contentedly ate steak cooked by his sons, James and Franklin Jr.

From New Hampshire comes word that 100 000 people are expected to hear the governor speak at Hampton Beach N H Sunday. It will be the opening gun of his campaign.

LIBBY AVOIDS CURIOUS ON RETURN HOME

IDENTITY IS CONCEALED

Scene of Fatal Reynolds Shooting Deserted After Tragic Week

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

WINSTON SALEM N C July 13—The Twin City Sentinel today says it has learned authoritatively the grand jury will be discharged this afternoon without making any pronouncement in the case of Smith Reynolds.

* * *

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI O July 13 Libby Holman came today to seek sanctuary behind what cloak of privacy her family could throw about her.

Leaving a train at Clare O 12 miles from town, with relatives clustered about her she sped by auto to the home of a sister in suburban Wyoming while a small crowd of curious waited vainly at the downtown station.

Blandly at first then more heatedly her sister and brother denied knowledge of her whereabouts. Finally it was admitted that the widow of Smith Reynolds slain tobacco heir was at her sister's in the home.

Though there was no suggestion as to the plans of the Holman family the supposition prevailed that Libby would remain in Wyoming a few days then go elsewhere perhaps to the mountains to seek recovery from the shock and strain of her husband's death from a bullet wound a week ago and the long close interrogation that followed.

It was a crushed and fearful Libby that reached home today. There was no smiling and bowing. Instead there was just a glimpse of a heavily cloaked girl face covered head lowered as her lawyer father half pushed half carried her from the steps of the railway car to an automobile.

Libby and her family left Winston Salem last night deserting the Reynolds estate scene of the fatal shooting of her husband of three months.

GLASS OFFERS REPEAL BILL

Senate Vote on Measure Blocked by Objections of Norris

WOULD PROHIBIT SALOONS

Submission to State Conventions for Ratification Within Seven Years Proposed

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 13—Senator Glass Democrat of Virginia in the senate today proposed a new amendment to the Constitution to repeal the Eighteenth amendment but to prohibit the sale of liquor in saloons or transportation into any states where it was unlawful.

Long a supporter of the present amendment the Virginian sought immediate consideration of his proposed substitute.

This was blocked however Senator Norris Republican of Nebraska objecting. The proposed Glass amendment would be inoperative unless ratified by 36 state conventions within seven years.

Its text follows.

Gives States Power

"Section 1. Article XVIII of the amendments to this Constitution is hereby repealed.

The sale of intoxicating liquors within the United States or any territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for consumption at the place of sale commonly known as saloons and the transportation of intoxicating liquors into any state territory district or possession of the United States in which the manufacture sale and transportation of intoxicating liquors are prohibited by law are hereby prohibited. The congress and the several states territories and possessions shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Section 2. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the constitution by conventions in the several states as provided in the constitution within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the states by the congress."

Planned as Test

Glass announced that he would let the repeal resolution lie on the table and attempt to bring it up later chiefly to test the good faith and sincerity of the senator from Connecticut and those who have been attempting to test the sincerity of those on this side.

He referred to Senator Bingham Republican of Connecticut and other advocates of the Bingham beer bill who accused Democrats of not adhering to their party platform because they voted against the beer bill.

Senator Bulkley Democrat of Ohio an anti prohibitionist then asked unanimous consent that the senate take up the motion of Senator Wagner Democrat of New York to discharge the judiciary committee from further consideration of Wagner's resolution to repeal the Eighteenth amendment.

Norris objected to this also blocking action.

FLORIO HOLDS LEAD IN OHIO AMATEUR

By The Associated Press

PORTAGE COUNTRY CLUB AKRON O July 13—Johnny Florio of Columbus who tied for medal honors yesterday with Oliver Transue of Canton in the first 18-hole qualifying round of the state amateur championship failed to continue his form this morning and added a 75 to his sub par round of 70 yesterday for a total of 145.

Florio today ran into the same kind of trouble as yesterday driving long putts to the lip of the cup. On the second as he was forced to take a disastrous six when his drive went into a trap and on the sixth and eighteenth he three putted.

Florio's 145 however gave him a three stroke lead over his nearest competitor Harold Weber of Toledo who added another 74 for a total of 148.

YOUTH KILLED IN PISTOL ACCIDENT

AMELIA SETS FLIGHT RECORD ACROSS U. S.

Trans-Atlantic Aviatrix Spans Continent in 19 Hours for Women's Mark

By The Associated Press

NEWARK N J July 13—Amelia Earhart Putnam landed here at 1 5 a m establishing a new women's trans-continental flight record.

Mrs Putnam beat the time of Miss Ruth Nichols the previous record holder by almost 10 hours. Miss Nichols who made the flight between west and east coasts at Wichita Kans had an elapsed time of 29 hours one minute and 43 seconds. Mrs Putnam stopped once at Columbus O and her elapsed time was 19 hours 14 minutes and 40 seconds.

Mrs Putnam intended when she took off from Los Angeles yesterday to make the first non-stop flight by a woman from coast to coast and to try to beat the non-stop record established by Frank Hawks five years ago. This record was 17 hours 38 minutes and 50 seconds.

Stopped at Columbus

A forced landing at Columbus caused by fuel feed trouble however put her out of the running for this record and left her with only the Nichols time to beat. Miss Nichols did not attempt to push along after she landed at Wichita but spent the night there. Mrs Putnam stayed in Columbus only an hour and a quarter.

Miss Nichols actual flying time for the crossing is still the best made by a woman she having been in the air only 21 hours 31 minutes 43 seconds but it is elapsed time that counts in record making.

Mrs Putnam was in the air just over 18 hours.

Mrs Putnam's official landing time was announced as 11 46 05 a m. This gave her a flying time of 17 hours 59 minutes and 40 seconds.

There was a crowd of several hundred persons at the field and Mrs Putnam showed intense surprise.

"What's all this?" she demanded leaning over the side of the cockpit as her plane came to a halt.

"You've set a new record for women" someone shouted.

Not Seeking Record

"Well I wasn't trying for a record" she replied. "This flight was entirely for practice in navigation. Later I may make the same flight again in a faster ship and try to do it in about 15 hours."

Mrs Putnam said that this flight was more trying in some ways than her recent ocean flight the first solo flight by a woman across the Atlantic.

Mrs Putnam said she would fly back to Los Angeles in about a week to rejoin her husband George Palmer Putnam and to witness some of the Olympic games.

Faulty Fuel Pump Balks Flight Plans

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O July 13 Amelia Earhart Putnam trans-Atlantic flier landed down here when a fuel pump refused to function took off for New York at 8 a m today.

Mrs Putnam who set out from Los Angeles Calif at 4 11 25 p m yesterday was 14 hours out of the west coast city when she landed here.

Flying the plane which carried her safely across the Atlantic to Ireland the tousled headed flier had smooth sailing until she attempted to pump gasoline from tanks in the fuselage. The hand pump refused to work and she was forced to set down here and replenish the fuel in her wing tanks.

She landed at 6 45 and lost more than an hour here.

DRY QUESTION BEFORE G. O. P.

Buckeye Republicans Uncertain on Proper Stand of State Platform

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O July 13 Prohibition was uppermost in the minds of Ohio Republican leaders today as they prepared the final touches for their state platform convention Thursday and Friday at which Secretary of War Patrick J Hurley on behalf of President Hoover is expected to answer the acceptance speech of Franklin D Roosevelt Democratic presidential nominee.

Leaders are not agreed upon what the state platform shall contain on the controversial wet and dry question. Some believe it should adopt the wording of the national Republican platform providing resubmission of the 18th amendment, with an additional statement for reconsideration of constitutional and statutory prohibition in the state.

On the other hand several of the state ticket candidates and some of the delegates from the larger cities of Cleveland and Cincinnati have indicated a desire to pledge Ohio Republicans to work for the repeal of the 18th amendment and state prohibition.

Some Favor Repeal

Attorney General Gilbert Bettman of Cincinnati senatorial nominee and David S Ingalls of Cleveland gubernatorial selection won their nominations on platforms declaring for a cut and out repeal.

Party leaders agree that the chairman of the resolutions committee which is charged with drafting the platform will have a big job. Only one person has been mentioned prominently as candidate for the chairmanship. He is James Riorden Canton attorney and chairman of the Stark county

Don't Change

(Will Rogers Special)

BEVERLY HILLS Cal July 12 Say the more you read of that bill for relief that the president vetoed the more you can see he was right. It was going to loan money to individuals. Now its right to have the government feed and help get jobs but to loan everybody money that needs it to pay off somebody else that they owe will in the words of my old friends the two black crows "you can't do that." Besides borrowing from one fellow to pay another one don't do any good. Just keep on owing the same fellow. He has got used to "carrying" us by now. In other words let's don't change creditors while crossing a stream.

TWIRLS GUN ON FOREFINGER

William J Dennewitz of Cardington Killed While Calling on Girl

BULLET PIERCES HEART

Companions Tell Coroner Victim Was "Showing Off." Funeral Friday

Special to the Star

MT GILEAD O July 13 The accidental discharge of a pistol he was twirling on the forefinger of his right hand last night caused the death of William J Dennewitz 21 of Cardington.

Dennewitz shot himself in the heart at 11 55 p m while sitting in a room at the Frank Robinson farm home near South Woodbury, south of here. He was calling on one of Robinson's daughters.

Ruby and Alice Robinson and Raymond Hags 17 told Dr Ted Carle of Mt Gilead Morrow county coroner that Dennewitz obtained the gun from another room at the house. The pistol, they said discharged while he was "showing off" by twirling it on one of his fingers.

Death Almost Instant

Dr Carle returned a verdict of accidental death and said that the 22 caliber bullet caused almost immediate death.

Ownership of the pistol has not definitely been determined by the coroner. He said that it was taken for granted last night that the gun belonged to Dennewitz but reports this morning indicated that the weapon was taken to the Robinson home by Hags.

Hags will be brought into juvenile court today to explain why he is in Morrow county in violation of a court order issued several weeks ago. Hags, who has been making his home at South Woodbury, recently pleaded guilty to a number of theft charges and a sentence to the Mansfield reformatory was suspended on condition that he return to his former home in West Virginia.

Dennewitz was the son of Mr and Mrs J A Dennewitz. He was born in Ross county near Linden and came to Cardington four years ago. His parents survive.

The funeral will be held Friday at 2 p m in the Curl funeral home at Cardington in charge of Rev F W Hess. Burial will be made in Glendale cemetery at Cardington.

FEAR FINAL EFFECTS OF FOREIGN TREATY

Lausanne "Gentlemen's Pact" Threatens To Disturb Trans-Atlantic Understanding.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK July 13 Another gentlemen's agreement—trouble maker of diplomacy—threatens to disturb trans-Atlantic understanding.

It is the unpublished accord whereby Germany's creditors undertook to delay the effectiveness of the treaty of Lausanne until Uncle Sam had done something about scaling down the debts they owe him.

In this country the suspicion has been voiced openly that the Wilson principle of "open covenants openly arrived at" has been tossed overboard by the European diplomats who wrote the Lausanne pact.

Critics of the arrangements say that there was certainly nothing open about the agreement itself nor they declare was it arrived at under a spotlight. None of the Lausanne negotiators has disclosed its text some of them explaining that it would be unethical to do so until it and the Lausanne treaty itself had been submitted to the parliaments concerned. But the British have moved to bring about publication.

French Views Aired

The French newspapers had no scruples about telling their leaders that the gentlemen's agreement was a diplomatic way of putting a settlement up to the United States.

This might be taken to mean that if America does not reduce the amounts due her from the World war allies the treaty of Lausanne would not be ratified and the Young plan would automatically go into effect again.

If that happened Germany would begin paying where she left off when President Hoover declared a moratorium on inter-governmental obligations last year.

Secretary of State Stimson who believes that American sentiment is unalterably opposed to writing off the war debts said no representative of the state department had had anything to do with the secret agreement at Lausanne.

In the British house of commons Monday, Neville Chamberlain said the negotiators at Lausanne had consulted not only each other but also representatives of the Amer-

[illegible]OCKS GAIN LATE SALES

[illegible] Signs of Working [illegible] Recent Narrow Range.

By The Associated Press

[illegible] July 13—The stock [illegible] of working [illegible] trading range of [illegible] on the upside [illegible]

[illegible] in the early [illegible] managed to make [illegible] side of the day. [illegible] a little on [illegible] continued firmness [illegible] better tone in the [illegible], tended to [illegible] in shares. [illegible] and packing [illegible] forge ahead, [illegible] forward to prove [illegible] started in the [illegible] power preferred [illegible] got up a point [illegible] gains of 1 to 2 [illegible] issues as Public [illegible] Consolidated Gas, [illegible] Pacific Lighting, [illegible] Telephone, American [illegible] Steel preferred, Corn Products, American Can, Continental Can, Corn Products, Case, Union Pacific, Woolworth, Santa Fe, Safeway, Kroger, McKeesport, Procter & Gamble, National Biscuit, and others. Some of the thinly traded preferred stocks made wider gains. In the early sag, Auburn dropped more than 4, but recovered later.

The upturn appeared to reflect a lifting of selling pressure, as much as anything, although some observers have been insisting of late that signs of good accumulation have appeared in spots. Furthermore, there was an inclination on the part of some professionals to take to the long side of the market, in anticipation of an early adjournment of congress, in view of the apparent determination of the legislators to expedite a relief measure acceptable to the President.

Adverse earnings and dividend news seemed to have been well discounted in advance. Continental Can managed to go ahead, despite cutting of the quarterly payment to 50 cents from 62½, and Procter & Gamble was not adversely affected by reduction of its quarterly disbursement to 50 cents from 60. The early slump in Auburn was in response to its second quarter statement showing a deficit of $151,957. The stock went under 50 after touching 60 earlier this week, but traders felt that a reaction had probably been inevitable, after an advance as rapid as its recent upswing. Woolworth directors ordered the regular dividend of 60 cents.

C. C. Huffman, president, said business of the company to July 2 was about 17 per cent less than last year.

The low stocks of many canned products now in warehouses and on dealers shelves, he added, and the recent advancing price trend in some of the principal canned foods "are encouraging factors."

FOREIGN GAIN BOOSTS WHEAT

Chicago Prices Advance in Response to Upturn of Liverpool Values.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 13—Influenced by a rise in wheat quotations at Liverpool, ascribed to speculators taking profit, grain prices here tended upward today. Suggestions of hot weather in domestic spring wheat territory northwest were also construed as bullish. Opening at ⅛ decline to ¼ advance, Chicago wheat futures showed all around gains later. Corn started ⅛@¼ up, and subsequently held near the initial range.

With spring wheat growth now entering a critical stage, prospects of a hot wave northwest likely to affect the crop adversely tended to give some stimulus to buyers. Some quarters observed that the condition of spring wheat had reached the apex, and that any change hereafter must be for the worse. Reports were that some unexplained heavy buying at Winnipeg might be linked with the economic conference to be held shortly in Ottawa.

Considerable skepticism was expressed over the new official estimate of domestic winter wheat production. There were assertions that the government forecast was at least 20,000,000 bushels too high, especially as much of the wheat appeared certain not to be harvested. Some notice was also taken of Washington advices that Russia's 1932 wheat area totaled but 85,939,000 acres, compared with 95,935,000 acres in 1931. Corn and oats were responsive to wheat price upturns.

Provisions reflected setbacks in hog values.

SCIENTISTS OF 2 UNIVERSITIES PROVE OLD GOLD COOLEST SMOKE

OLD GOLD
Old Gold CIGARETTES
THE TREASURE OF THEM ALL

NEWSPAPER MEN SEE SCIENCE PROVE OLD GOLD THE COOLEST CIGARETTE

Brief Biographies of Famed Journalists who saw Old Gold win Scientific Test

Sam Taub is one of the leading newspaper authorities on the boxing game Both his column, "In a Ring-side Seat," and his radio broadcasts of leading fights are the last word to boxing enthusiasts.

Karl K Kitchen's two columns "Mr Manhattan" which deals with New York personalities, and "Karl K. Kitchen Presents" appear in over 60 papers, and have a wide and loyal following.

Walter Trumbull's sparkling syndicated sports features, "The Listening Post" and "The Wearing of the Green" are followed eagerly by readers all over the country

THE EVIDENCE OF SCIENCE

This is to certify that in 75 repeated cool tests made of the 4 leading cigarette brands measuring the heat content of each cigarette in B T Us with the Oxygen Bomb Calorimeter, it was shown that

Old Gold averages 112 B T Us Cooler than Brand X
Old Gold averages 155 B T Us Cooler than Brand Y
Old Gold averages 136 B T Us Cooler than Brand Z

To further verify Old Gold's coolness the temperature Fahrenheit of the smoke of each cigarette brand was checked and Old Gold's smoke was found to be definitely cooler than the smoke of the other three brands"

LABORATORY CHECK PLACES O. G. FIRST, IN COOL THROAT-EASE

Decisive Results in Favor of O. G. Obtained by Scientists From Specimens of Four Leading Brands Purchased in 20 Different Parts of the Country

Independent tests conducted by scientists of two l ing Eastern Universities corroborated the findings of New York Testing Laboratories The educators v conclusively that Old Golds are the coolest of the leading cigarette brands, indicating the use of finer qu tobaccos, the selection of milder and choicer leaf and absence of heat-generating flavorings

Purchasing their cigarettes through certified acc ants in 20 different sections of the country with w varying climatic conditions, the scientists said they able to establish beyond all doubt that Old Golds coo was not altered by climatic extremes.

"There was no doubting the accuracy of the Ox Bomb Calorimeter—it is one of the most reliable me for measuring heat-content known to Science," said of the educators, "so we employed the same type o strument.

"And when test after test showed Old Golds co ently cooler than the three other brands, and the Fa heit temperature of the smoke definitely cooler, there no alternative but to decide for Old Golds," he insisted

Inasmuch as coolness in a cigarette requires fine purer tobaccos and absence of artificial flavoring, this tific verdict proves Old Gold a cigarette of choicest tob quality—pure tobacco without added flavorings.

Selections from each lot of cigarettes bought for the tests have been sealed in airtight containers, labeled show in which sections of the country they were purcha

O N G Officer To Determine If More Troops Needed To Keep Order

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O July 13 Brigadier General Harold M Bush commanding officer of the 62nd field artillery of the Ohio National Guard was sent into the Ohio coal fields today to make a survey of conditions arising from the statewide strike of miners

The survey was ordered by Adjutant General Frank D Henderson following disorders in which one man was killed two bridges were damaged and county officers defied by pickets Henderson indicated that General Bush's investigation was decided upon with a view to determining if additional National Guardsmen are needed to maintain order

Troops guarded themselves with machine guns at Chauncey Athens county today to prevent recurrence of an attack by unidentified persons late Monday night after which the body of an 18-year old youth was found in a cemetery He had been shot during the exchange of bullets

The shooting followed the dynamiting of one railroad bridge and the firing of another near mine properties

Snipers Warned by Machine Gun Volley

By The Associated Press

ST CLAIRSVILLE O July 13—A spray of machine gun bullets into the densely wooded hills near Powhatan by mine guards who suspected snipers lurked in the foliage marked the only activity in the Belmont county coal strike field today

Guards convoying working miners to the Provident mine fired into the hills to scare away any of the snipers who have been firing at trucks the last several days

As a result of an order by Sheriff Howard Duff late yesterday not a picket was allowed within a mile of any of the mines in the county today The sheriff issued his order as the result of the probable fatal wounding of Gail Gimble near the Provident mine on Monday and the defiant attitude of alleged pickets who pushed the sheriff and his deputies off the road yesterday

Officials of the United Mine Workers declared they would contest the sheriff's order describing the limits of pickets in the local courts a sub-district convention of the United Mine Workers is scheduled for Bellaire this afternoon

COMPENSATION COST INCREASED BY OHIO

cern to the administrators the report said

Among other factors contributing to the lessening income of the fund the commission claimed are Abnormally increasing cost per claim in compensation and medical costs tendency of the courts to allow claims which had been disapproved (this caused an 18 per cent increase during 1931) the tendency to prolong the recovery period due in part to the unemployment situation and non-insured and irresponsible employers

Reduction of wages in the brackets above $28.13 a week does not alter the benefits to be allowed the injured workmen the commission pointed out but does decrease the income to the compensation fund The wage reductions also do not affect the cost of hospital and medical services

Ohio Still Lower

While Ohio rates have not been increased to the extent found necessary in other states and are at a much lower level than other states with comparable benefits it behooves Ohio employers and employes to give their utmost cooperation to the department and commission in assisting to prevent the drain upon the fund by unscrupulous employers employes and doctors making unmeritorious claims and the evasion of the act of failure to pay proper premium through not covering their employes or improper reporting of payrolls" the commission stated

The report was signed by the commissioners W T Leonard chairman J M Gregory and T F [illegible] and Director T A Edmondson and his assistant Lloyd D [illegible]

General classifications on which rates were increased were farming coal mining lime quarries planing mills furniture manufacturers sheet metal goods makers iron foundries machine shops auto manufacturers brick makers printing rubber tire manufacturers masonry structural steel erection carpentry plastering and plumbing painting general building construction private residence construction street and road construction railroad construction sewer construction drayage and hauling of household goods electric light and power departments stores retail stores lumber yards coal dealers all distributing companies auto sales and garages traveling salesmen office employes and restaurants

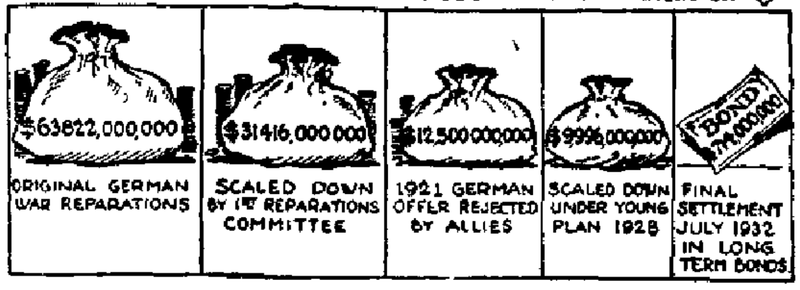
WHAT LAUSANNE ACCORD MEANS TO UNCLE SAM

EUROPEAN STATESMEN AT LAUSANNE CONFERENCE



While European financial experts and statesmen are breaking out in eruptions of encomium over the harmonious conclusion of the Lausanne reparations conference, whereas the original reparations debt of $63,822,000,000 stipulated in 1920 to be paid by Germany to the Allies was finally whittled down to a mere $714,000,000, the layman in these United States is asking himself in a bewildered fashion "what does it mean to us." The answer is approximately nine billion dollars Though the U S did not take any part in the conference the Allies have taken the stand that they can not pay war debt installments due this country without corresponding reparations payments. And as they have agreed to cut the reparations to the stated sum it means that a corresponding cut will probably be passed on to the United States in the war debt matter Of the eleven billion dollars due the U S. by the Allies, only about a billion and a half has been paid so if the Lausanne agreement is approved by the U S the remaining nine and a half billions may now be regarded as virtually uncollectable This, on the basis of 1930 census figures (122,775,046 population) would plaster a debt of $76.50 on every man woman and child in the U S. Above is a diagram showing how the original German reparations debt has been shaved down by "easy" stages until it has finally shrunk to 99 per cent less than the originally stipulated amount. At top are the statesmen who participated in the Lausanne conference Left to right they are Baron von Neurath German Minister of Foreign Affairs Signor Mosconi of Italy Chancellor von Papen of Germany Premier Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain and Premier Edouard Herriot of France

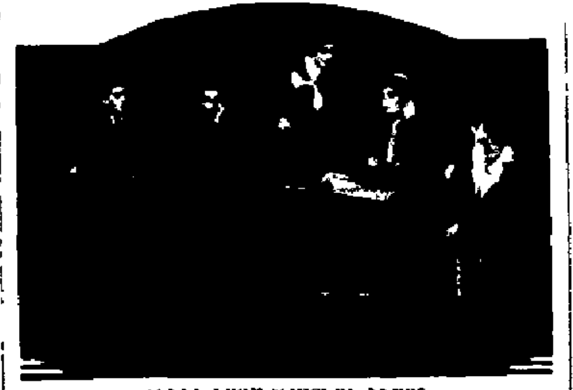
CHAUTAUQUA FEATURE



SCENE FROM "CHICKEN FEED"

"Chicken Feed," a comedy dramatization for the family pocketbook will be presented by the Freeman Hammond players the night of July 26 at the Chautauqua pavilion. The presentation will be one of two to be given by the players on the Chautauqua program this year. In the afternoon the company will be seen in "Uncle Dudley."

"Chicken Feed" is by Guy Bolton, author of many New York successes and is one of the most popular of his contributions. The story concerns three wives and their husbands who are living in peaceful bliss until one of the wives conceives the brilliant idea of demanding wages for her services as a housewife. She enlists the cooperation of other wives who feel the injustice of their position and when their demands are refused they strike.

The move creates a panic among the husbands in the little town of Milford. How the strike is settled provides a sparkling climax to the play which is brimming with humor and action.

Circus Spectacles Thrill Thousands of Fans Here

Wild animals snapped and snarled at their trainer as they were put through their paces—beautiful horses pranced and danced in exhibitions of skill—men and women performers did deeds of strength and daring, clowns cavorted—the band played and thousands of circus fans from Marion and the surrounding territory enjoyed their second show day of the summer when the Hagenbeck & Wallace circus gave two performances at the Drake lot on East Fairground street yesterday.

The afternoon attendance was estimated by circus officials at between 5,000 and 6,000 persons while the huge tent with a seating capacity of 8,000 persons was nearly three-fourths filled when the whistle sounded for last night's performance.

The performance was made up of 2[illegible] displays opening with a spectacular pageant "Cleopatra" and closing with the firing from a cannon of the "Great Wilno" who hurtled from the mouth of the huge cannon and landed in a net on the opposite side of the tent.

A wild animal act by Clyde Beatty, a former Chillicothe boy, with what the program termed as the world's largest group of performing lions and tigers was one of the outstanding features of the show. The Hanneford family of trick riders headed by "Poodles" Hanneford was a featured act as were the Billettis, a trio of high wire performers.

A wild west performance after the regular program brought the show to a close. The circus will give two performances in Mansfield today. The circus trains left early this morning over the Erie railroad.

Ohioans Read More and Prefer "Heavy" Stuff, Librarian Reports

By The Associated Press

SANDUSKY, O., July 13.—Not many are getting well heeled in this era of hot words and cold lunches, but some are becoming well read and that is an angle that appeals to Miss Dorothy Keefe, the local librarian, who naturally isn't so sure the latter accomplishment isn't more desirable after all.

Book circulation in Sandusky Miss Keefe proudly estimates, will show an increase of 100 per cent over last year. The increase for 1931 over 1930 was 72 per cent.

Hundreds who never disturbed a library reading room before are boring now into studies weighty and light and Miss Keefe doesn't know what to think about the apparent shift away from breezier fiction to the heavy stuff.

She [illegible] however, that although [illegible] check out books merely for amusement or because they're out of anything else to do, others are preparing for new jobs.

Still others are turning to such [illegible] related studies in an effort [illegible] current tangled world [illegible] Miss Keefe finds [illegible] haven't joined in the [illegible] fiction to [illegible] now [illegible] quality than formerly. The detective stories that wowed the [illegible] readers for a time are on the way out, the librarian [illegible] and many persons who formerly couldn't wait for the latest mystery yarn apparently have forsaken them altogether [illegible] into pamphlets and books bristling with figures [illegible].

Paris Reports Hat Pins Coming Back

BY ALICE LANGELIER
International News Correspondent

PARIS, July 13 — Beware of your eyes. The old fashioned hat pin has come back again and smart women are demanding them in the 7 and 8 inch sizes that were worn before the war. They say they can't keep the new shallow crowned hats on their heads without pins and the short half inch ones will not grip short hair.

These new old hat pins serve double duty, holding the bonnet securely on the head and also as a trimming for they are worn piercing the crown from back to front and have an ornamental ball or motif of some kind to tone in with the color scheme.

Factories that have been turning out hatclips for the past few years are now turning to hat pins again and the old French warnings posted in the Paris subway stations warning passengers of the unprotected pin will now be of use once more.

* * *

GLOVES will match stockings in the new lace and tulle variety which are now seen in the rue de la Paix shops. Fish net none coarse in large or small mesh and there are net stockings and gloves with a lace design on them all nice and cobwebby.

Smartest stockings are still in the beige range varied by a combination with the grey and more tinges called shadow shade. They are chic with black frocks and with those with a hint of grey.

Chic handbags are not fantastic. A favorite is white in dull or shiny leather relieved by black or the dark shade of the frock with the initials of onyx and diamante. Olive green is also a wise choice for summer and smart from the point of view of accessories as shoes, hat and gloves all in a paler tone.

... I'm sorry for him— ... any luck

Copyright 1932, by Ruby M Ayres

She spoke casually in a voice that would have deceived many people

After a moment Anderson said casually

"I like young Merriman I believe he is a capable fellow You might ask him to come and see me"

She caught her breath with a sharp little sound

"Thank you"

She had got her wish—so easily Soon—quite soon perhaps there would be miles of sea between her and the man she loved She had taken the first step that would put him definitely out of her life

And womanlike she felt that her heart would break

After a moment she spoke again

"You haven't told me what it's like—out there"

"Do you want the picturesque truth? Or merely the truth?"

"Merely the truth"

"Well then—it's horrible—nearly all the time You would find it even more intolerable than Evelyn did Heat flies loneliness tinned food fever and an ever increasing longing for home—"

Sondra shivered and he said half whimsically "You wanted the truth"

"Yes"

After a moment he went on

"Evelyn and I had the picturesque thing called love or so we believed—but even love isn't immune from mosquitoes and discomforts It grows tired and ugly"

"You don't believe in love?"

"Men with a great deal of experience seldom do"

"There must have been some women or one woman who really meant a great deal to you—once?"

"If so I've forgotten"

He always parried her in this manner never by conscious look or word had he as yet betrayed what she already knew—that he loved her and sometimes her vanity wanted to hear him say it

She said with a faint laugh "It seems a pity I should have thought you were the kind of man women would have adored"

"Thank you"

She said quickly "You are sneering at me"

"No I was only a little amused From what you said some men—perhaps more conceited than I am—might have concluded that you found me rather adorable yourself"

"I'm very fond of you—you know that"

He bowed "And I am very grateful"

"Now you are sneering again It is I who should be grateful to you"

"For my money" he asked quietly "Or for my devotion?"

She said hoping to rouse him "So far I have only had your money"

"Perhaps it is all you want" he said

There was a short silence then Sondra said vehemently

"I think money is the most hateful thing in the world"

"Don't you mean the lack of it?" he asked

"It's the same thing" she maintained "I believe all the sins of the world are committed either because you haven't any or because you have too much"

He looked at her steadily

"What particular sin are you thinking of at the moment?" he asked

She met his eyes hotly

"The stupidity that makes me take money and expensive presents from you—greediness I suppose it is really and love of luxury"

"The sin which we all commit in some form or another"

She said with bitter animosity

"I know you are only saying that to be kind to me John. I don't want you to be kind or try to disguise the truth You know that I'm up to my eyes in debt and that the only possible way out for me is to marry a rich man as Flora did I suppose in a way I'm not to blame I've been brought up so that now it's utterly impossible for me to be happy without the things which only money can buy"

She leaned her chin in her hand "You can be happy if you're poor" she said with conviction

"How do you know?"

"My father used to say that love and marriage ought to be kept quite apart If you want love to last"

"And this is what you are proposing to do?" Anderson asked

"What do you mean?"

"Only that Merriman can stay in America if you want him to stay" Anderson said quietly

The hot blood mounted to her forehead

"What do you mean? Why should I want him to stay? ... he isn't anything to me only just a friend Why do you say a thing like that?"

"Are you trying to disguise the truth Sondra?"

She met his eyes unfalteringly though she stammered a little as she answered

"Why should I? I have nothing to disguise"

Anderson passed a hand rather wearily across his eyes

"The music has stopped" he said "Shall we go back?"

But Sondra did not move she was twisting her hands together nervously

"I should hate fevers and tinned food—and loneliness" Sondra said after a moment trying to laugh

He rose "Well tell young Merriman to come and see me some time"

Sondra rose also

"John ... you're not angry with me"

The Stars Say—

For Thursday July 14

A DAY of difficult and uncertain situations may be predicted from the adverse influence of some of the lunar transits There seems to be a subtle force at work with menace of conspiracy underhand attacks on employment and dealings with large corporations or secret societies in general attempts to disrupt confuse and unsettle The nature will be restless chaotic and vacillating but it would be well to confer with elders whose solid advice may be found worth while

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year of many small complications difficulties and disturbances with an undercurrent of duplicity and treachery from unsuspected sources This may be sidestepped by the assistance and advice of elders and by strict adherence and fidelity to affairs in hand Be alert and discreet A child born on this day may be disposed to be restless changeable and visionary withal industrious practical and persistent

"Heart of a Wife"

—BY ADELE GARRISON—

In a Midnight Conference, All the Searchers Except Brixton and his Wife Meet To Compare Notes and Make Plans

HAD anything happened to Mary and Noel? That was the question that beat insistently upon my brain as I waited, with one hand upon the telephone receiver for a message to come from them If harm had come to my husband's winsome young niece because I had permitted her to accompany Noel in trailing Samuel Brixton how could I ever forgive myself?

The ringing of the telephone interrupted my self flagellation and I snatched the receiver from the hook with fingers that I could not keep steady

"Mary?" I quavered

"No dearest this is father" a beloved voice answered "But Mary and Noel are here perfectly all right Will it be possible for you Lillian and Harry to come over as soon as Mary and Noel get back to the hotel?"

They Are Safe

"As far as I know now yes" I returned keeping my voice to a murmur

"Has our neighbor come up stairs?"

"Yes ten minutes ago and has locked the door I think they are asleep Wait there's a knock"

I went to the door and opened it upon Ronald wild-eyed patently distraught who slipped in past me and motioned to me to close the door

"He went away for an hour and came back only a few minutes ago" he whispered hoarsely "What will you think of me for not following him? But it was simply impossible to get away from mother Thank heaven! They're both asleep now I think At any rate he told me I could go into my own room for the night and I bent it down here the first second I could"

"You have done exactly the right thing Ronald" I answered him "Nobody expected you to leave your mother and it would have excited your stepfather's suspicions if you had left her Don't worry! I think he was most efficiently shadowed by Noel and Mary Go back to your room so that your stepfather will find you there if he wishes you for anything"

The Conference

"I do not know what has happened yet myself only that Mary and Noel are coming back here and that then the Underwoods and I are going over to the school But remember you do not know that Get some sleep if you can dear boy I'll let you know everything as soon as I can"

"Sleep" Ronald's exclamation was filled with horrified incredulity "I don't think I ever shall sleep again—listen I'm going to leave my door ajar a crack and when I hear you people come in after you have come back from the school may I come in and find out what you have discovered?"

"Yes yes" I told him and he left the room in the same stealthy fashion as he had entered it while I went back to the telephone

It was Ronald wondering about everything I told my father but he has gone back now and I think the coast is clear I'll tell the Underwoods and we'll be all ready to start the minute Noel and Mary get back

"That's my own girl" my father said approvingly "Don't risk discovery If you're late we'll understand"

But we were not late No sound came from the Brixton suite. There was not even a glimmer of light through the keyhole When Mary came softly up the stairs five minutes later Lillian and I were ready to start and Harry had gone down stairs to get his car out

"I haven't time to tell you anything" Mary whispered breathlessly "... they want you over there as soon as possible But we tell them everything Now I'll keep watch here and if they move I'll telephone ... I'll also be the best little ... in seven states unless Mrs Brixton should want either you or Aunt Lillian"

"I know we can depend on you dear" I ... and then Lillian and I ... down the stairs and out to the waiting motor

Five minutes later we were all in the Barnes private sitting room together with Dr and Mrs Barnes my father, Phil Veritzen and Dicky Hugh Grantland was not present and my father answered Harry's upward inflection of "Hugh?" with a hurried explanation

"Hugh has been here but he went back to his lone hunt hideout as soon as Noel and Mary made their report to check up if possible with Lee Chow"

He wrinkled and regarded the tips of his fingers

"Brixton drove to another town and called Philadelphia over a long distance telephone" he said "We're checking up now on the number but we're pretty sure he called Owen" — Copyright 1932, King Feature Syndicate Inc.

The Destroyer

Deflation is supposed to be a good thing in the sense that bitter pills are a good thing but any survey of its immediate effects is more likely to prove that there can be too much of a good thing.

For instance the depression has destroyed what had become an annual oasis in the news—the tabulation of red-headed girls and white horses by the Browsing society of New York City. When Langdon McCormick founder of the event and proponent of the theory that the number of red-headed girls equals the number of white horses arrived on the scene the other day he was voted down with scarcely a struggle by the other two members of the counting committee. They had concurred they had sufficient strength to uphold the two-thirds rule and they were convinced that expenditure of almost 17 dollars to count girls and horses annually was unjustified.

So Mr McCormick trudged back home adding machine under one arm and binoculars bumping the small of his back. This would have been the fifth year of indulgence in his curious hobby. Drat the darned old depression anyway! Barnum was wrong he should have said "The people like to be scared."

Some taxicab driver who would have earned 12 dollars carrying the counting committee over its route went home the night Mr McCormick cursed the depression that much poorer than he might have been. A dozen newspapermen lost what always has been a good story. Thousands of readers missed what has become an anticipated event. And all because two men who could not afford to spend the money decided that this year they would keep it instead. Probably they are cursing the depression too.

A Better Mousetrap.

When modern Americans make a better mouse trap they don't wait for the world to beat a path to their door. They take a house on the main road and tell the world what they have to sell. The one that gets there first and attracts the most attention does the best business—if he has a good product.

King C Gillette, dead at the age of 77, moved to the main road 29 years ago. He tried to sell the world the idea of shaving with a little blade in a cage—a safety razor. It wasn't easy. The world only bought half a hundred of the contraptions the first year.

Years later, when Mr Gillette and his associates were turning out razor blade holders by the million and blades by the billion they were better qualified to talk about salesmanship but their ideas weren't greatly different. The main thing was to tell the people what you had to sell.

In a third of a century their organization and others had done their job of merchandising so well that a beard was something to stare at and take pictures of. Shaving had been made easy and cheap so the world shaved. In addition to the vast fortune King C Gillette has gathered to himself credit for altering the appearance of the human race.

Money, Coming and Going

There have been many occasions in the last few years to wonder how many Americans really know where the federal government gets its money. Abundant evidence has been available indicating that the common conception was that it is produced in the bureau of engraving by order of congress.

A recent report of the bureau of internal revenue might be examined with great profit by many Americans therefore. One figure should be impressed upon our minds heavily: the 35 per cent decrease in revenues for 1932 compared with 1931. The only state which returned more in 1932 than 1931 was Nevada—which went the limit to attract wealth but only paid $270 more back to the government.

It is not a popular division to make but states should be divided into two groups: paying and non-paying. A recent analysis of factors involved in determining these classifications made by Representative Bacon of New York revealed that 11 states bear almost 91 per cent of the nation's tax burden while 34 others received in 1931 $24,040,501 more from the federal government than they paid to it.

These states holding 31 per cent of the national population receive when their federal taxes were deducted from the amount of federal aid they got $1.78 for each person. Ohio needless to say was not one of them. It was one of the paying states: for each dollar of federal aid it received in 1931 $11.53 went to Washington. New York because of its eminence as a business center paid the most for its federal aid dollar—$74.0[illegible]

It is not in the best interests of the union to hold such facts before the people but anything that might convince Americans that their nation can spend only what they give back is worth trying. When a wealthy state asks for help it is asking for a return on its investment. When one of the 11 mentioned above asks for help it is in the position of a federal ward. That fact may be worth remembering for its bearing on certain of the important problems of the moment.

Possibly so but that doesn't mean they'll not marry. If the judge knows human nature he should realize that lack of money never blocked the path to matrimony regardless of whether it should or not.

Proposal and Rejection

Sparks struck from the clash between President Hoover and Candidate Roosevelt over water power development in connection with the St Lawrence waterway are but poorly concealed with a veil of polite words. To Mr Roosevelt's proffer of help to settle difficulties between New York and the federal government Mr Hoover returns a steely statement of rejection. Negotiations are making progress. You will realize that neither you nor I have the authority to enter upon agreements in respect to these domestic questions (water power etc.) ... It will not be necessary for you to interrupt your cruise by a visit to Washington ... having ardently advocated for over 10 years the great work of completing the shipway from Duluth and Chicago to the sea I am glad to know that it will meet with your support.

There can be no doubt that the power issue has been struck between these presidential candidates. President Hoover on record as an advocate of private development of power resources has repulsed openly his opponent's attempt to present the case for government development in New York state. Mr Roosevelt whose political backing is mostly from the West and South where are found the foremost advocates of public development has made a strategic move. Rejection of his offer does not signify failure of his underlying purpose.

Mr Hoover is right of course in pointing out that the question of disposal of water power necessarily must wait upon completion of the treaty. Since the federal government alone is empowered to make treaties there is nothing for the governor of New York to do at this time. The governor however is apprehensive lest the treaty with Canada be drawn in such a way that New York's share of expense in constructing the waterway will be so high as to prohibit any program of public development of water power in connection with the waterway.

The power issue half grown could be brought to maturity almost instantly under certain conditions. Before many years a presidential election will be settled with a popular decision on it in all probability. If Governor Roosevelt chooses to go on as he has started it may attain considerable importance this year.

A RAILROAD CZAR

There is a growing sentiment among railroad executives that it would be desirable to establish a sort of railroad czar to sit in judgment on many of the problems of the railroads in the interest of economy.

Nucleus of the idea is being worked out by a committee of which Daniel Willard president of the Baltimore & Ohio, Carl Gray president of the Union Pacific and J J Pelley president of the New Haven are members. They represent the railroad executives.

Thousands of suggestions are made to railway executives everywhere as to what can be done for the railroads. Many of them are made by well meaning men [illegible] complaint. Daily Guide to Health

BY DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Eczema Common, but Not Contagious

Eczema is perhaps the most common skin disorder causing more distress than any other disease of the skin. Hardly a day passes that I do not receive a letter requesting information and advice about this disorder.

The mother of a child suffering from this ailment often becomes frantic in her efforts to give the child relief. The disease is indeed distressing and sometimes persists in spite of every effort on the part of the mother. She may resort to the use of salves of every description and often these do more harm than good.

Eczema may occur at any age. It makes up thirty per cent of all skin diseases most often affecting children and infants and is much more severe and persistent when it occurs in infancy. The cause is not known. It is believed by some authorities to be associated with faulty indigestion or the use of foods that act as irritants.

Eczema is described as an acute or chronic inflammation of the skin and is characterized by redness scabs and crust formation with marked itching and burning. The eruption is most in contrast to psoriasis with which it is frequently confused. Psoriasis is a dry silvery gray-like inflammation of the skin without marked itching.

Most mothers fear eczema and believe it to be contagious. On this account children with eczema are often subjected to unnecessary embarrassment and unhappiness. Please bear in mind that the disease is not catching and can not be transmitted from one person to another.

While eczema is seldom seen in breast-fed babies it is of common occurrence in the infant that is weaned at an early age and has difficulty in becoming adjusted to the bottle formula.

Constipation must be corrected if it exists and the disease is often cured as soon as disorders of the digestive organs are corrected. All centers of infection particularly enlarged tonsils and adenoids should be removed.

If you have eczema it is important to make every effort to improve your general health. Avoid excessive use of alcohol tobacco tea or coffee. Infections and nervous disturbances are frequently the forerunners of eczema. Overwork insufficient sleep and lack of relaxation also must be corrected before eczema can be cured.

Sensitiveness to one particular food often produces eczema. The diet should be carefully watched, and all irritating foods avoided. Regular elimination is imperative but the daily use of cathartics is not advised. If necessary an enema should be taken.

Many salves and ointments are sold for the cure of eczema but I want to warn my readers against the use of any remedy unless it is prescribed by a physician.

Eczema is often a stubborn condition. Do not become discouraged if the ailment does not quickly respond to treatment. Relief may not be obtained until every item in the diet has been studied and it may take a long time before the underlying cause of the eczema is discovered and removed.

Highlights of Ohio History

BY J. H. GALBRAITH

SHERMAN BRAVERY

When in 1786 the congress ordered Thomas Hutchins the geographer to survey public lands in the Ohio country west of the Ohio river and the Pennsylvania border each of the eastern states having interests in this work was authorized to select a surveyor to be on the staff of the geographer and Connecticut [illegible] Colonel Isaac Sherman. It is not known whether he was of the Sherman line that was later to produce notable men in this state but as the Ohio Shermans came from Connecticut that seems probable.

Before setting forth Hutchins warned his associates of the danger from Indians but they proceeded undaunted. Later however danger became imminent and the parties were asked to suspend operations. Sherman coolly declined and neither he nor any of his party were molested though constantly menaced by prowling Indians. This courage matched by that of Colonel Sproat who later joined the Marietta settlers enabled the surveyors to get the first seven ranges ready to be sold and to bring in revenue of which the new nation stood greatly in need.

New York Day by Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York July 13—Broadway's newest drama is one of exciting change. A café proprietor suggests the [illegible] of the real life goings-on [illegible] Morey Extinguishers [illegible]. The reckless scatterers who gave the Bright Lane its flare have nothing to scatter.

What little puffs of life here are float to one café one week and to another the next. No hot spot is doing even a fair business. Not in the swift eddy of the past ten years has there been such a marked shifting as in the past year. Like Wall street it touches continued new lows.

Those leisurely theatrical strollers who once made Broadway the most fascinating of the town's promenades now scurry across it as though a bit ashamed. Corner groups of fancy gamblers and men about town are supplanted by grifters with eyes peeled for yokels.

Checker-suited [illegible] who gave Broadway its aura of sportiness have moved over to the other side of the avenue. They are lodged in the de luxe speakeasies with elliptical bars and in the penthouses of the Gold Coast with their Monte Carlo gambling equipment.

With the exception of Lindy's there is not a midnight rendezvous where the colorful crowd hangs out. In other days there were at least 500 such resorts between 34th and 59th. Sure thing boys are sure of nothing save this has been the toughest going of all summers.

* * *

The past week has increased my irritation over the constant efforts of novelists playwrights and scenario artists to picture the religious with martyrdom sicklied o'er by the pale cast of thought. I am fortunate in knowing a number of earnestly religious people. They are the healthiest happiest and most prosperous of my acquaintance. Certainly they are the most tolerant. I have always found the greatest bigotry among non church men.

In the days when Charles Chapin city edited the Evening World a legend in newspaper circles was that to arrive at 8 a m and ask for a job meant certain success. The saga was that Chapin always arrived at that hour. Yet it was only a legend. I know a dozen who tried it with no luck. Aside from myself who had the same enchanting child-like faith.

The Marry-Go-Round

BY HELEN ROWLAND

THIS MARRIED LIFE

Many a well-intentioned husband will bring home his wife an expensive present or a five-pound box of candy when she is starving for just two cents worth of boloney.

* * *

Men may not be so mercenary as women—but lots of them marry for moral support.

* * *

With marriage as with an ankle a sprain is much more painful than a break. Yet the world is full of separated women these days who are in a state of suspended divorce—neither wife widow nor free lance.

* * *

His wife's absence for the summer may drive a man to starvation or flirtation—but his stenographer's absence for two weeks drives him to desperation.

* * *

Some men step out of their responsibilities as carelessly as they step out of their shoes—and just leave them around for a woman to pick up after them.

Divorce has become such a friendly jolly little affair that it no longer means giving up a husband forever but is just a sort of intermission between honeymoons—until he gets tired of the other woman.

* * *

In the modern lovechase many girls make the foolish mistake of trying to run a man down when it would be so much easier and simpler just to trip him up.

* * *

This is the time of year when the heart feels the wanderlust and many a woman wishes that she could take the bell off the family cat and tie it around her husband's neck.

* * *

The old fashioned girl [illegible] been merely a little [illegible] She left only a stray h[illegible] coat lapel instead of a daub of rouge all over the collar.

GROVE CLUBBED HARD AS INDIANS HAMMER A'S INTO SUBMISSION

Tribe Threatens To Make Close Race Out of American League Campaign

The Cleveland Indians tearing through the east with a speed and spirit that stamps them a vastly improved club promise to instill some life in an American league race that had about died on its feet

With a boisterous batting attack the Indians have captured nine of their last 12 games including four out of five over Washington and three of four from the Athletics and within a week have fought their way up from the second division into a tie for third place

Eddie Morgan

Another victory over the A's today would plant them in a tie for the second rung They open a series at Yankee stadium tomorrow

The Indians yesterday hammered the great Lefty Grove for 18 hits and a 7 to 6 victory Eddie Morgan's home run followed by doubles by Sewell and Cissell scored the winning runs in the ninth

The Yanks took a 4 to 2 decision over St Louis, although they made only five hits off Walter Stewart Babe Ruth walked four times and scored twice

It took Washington 10 innings to subdue the White Sox 13 to 12 while the Boston Red Sox who have roused themselves to win six games in the last fortnight nosed out Detroit 3 to 2 behind Bob Kline

Successive drives by Dave Barbee and Gus Dugas gave the Pittsburgh Pirates an 8 to 7 verdict over Brooklyn in 12 innings.

The second place Chicago Cubs kept pace with a 4 to 3 win over the Braves and George Watkins gave the Cardinals their third straight over the Phillies by a score of 7 to 6 when he knocked one from the premises after two were out and one on in the ninth inning

The Giants broke a four game losing streak with a 4 to 3 win over the Cincinnati Reds Carl Hubbell didn't permit a Red to reach first until two were out in the seventh round

IRISH BATTER WAY INTO TIE FOR LEAD

Bishops Ousted from Race by 9 7 Loss; Lutherans Drop Clarkmen, Calvary Beats Baptists

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK
Sports Editor The Star

If the First Presbyterians were faced with the necessity of cutting one opponent from their softball schedule and were given their choice as to what team it would be Lee Street would probably be lopped off the list of opposition The Presbyterians have discovered the formula for whipping every other team in the league but when the West Side combine furnishes the piece de resistance the uptown nine just can't seem to be very much in the running

Lee Street handed the Presbyterians another rude jolt yesterday submerging them under an 8-4 score and booting them out of undisputed possession of first place in the league standings Previously this season Lee Street racked up a 1 0 decision

Presbies Take Lead

The Presbyterians climbed into a lead over Lee Street by cracking in three runs in the third inning when Milt Pohler slammed a home run Lee Street pecked away at the advantage and had the count deadlocked by the end of the fifth

Win in Seventh

An uprising in the seventh frame that netted four tallies for Lee Street broke up the ball game and ousted the Presbies from their lofty perch Johnny Marshall who has been in somewhat of a batting slump most of the season picked this inning to come through with a four base wallop that decided the issue The Presbies were able to score one in the last half of the seventh but never threatened very seriously to overcome the big Lee Street lead

The St. Mary Irish clambered into a deadlock for the top position and at the same time eased the Epworth Bishops out of the title race by taking a 9 7 decision from the Methodists The Irish were aided in their quest for victory by some extremely ragged fielding on the part of the fast slipping Bishops The Methodists looking anything but like the ball club that for more than half the season was a strong contender for the league crown Gene Gunder was touched for 12 hits but kept them fairly well scattered Eddie Mautz was clubbed out of the box by the Irish and Clarence Primmer a rookie was sent to his rescue Primmer pitched a good game but was given poor support

Going into the last inning four runs behind the Irish boys put on a rally that threatened to tie the count but it fell short by two runs

Jinx Shattered

Calvary Evangelical shattered a long standing jinx by taking Trinity Baptists into camp by a 4 1 margin Walt Baldauf held the Baptists to five hits and shut them out until the final inning Myron and Bob Gibson both aided the Calvary cause by banging out homers The winners touched Kimball for eight safeties

The Lutherans escaped the fate that many fans believed they had in store that of not winning a ball game all season—by handing John Clark's oft beaten proteges a 6 5 beating Bob Foltz applied the whitewash to the Methodist combine for six innings but saw a shutout chance blasted in the seventh when the Epworth counted three runs Foltz gave up nine hits but kept them well scattered The Lutherans got nine off Bob Gamble

COLLEGE STARS SET GOLF TOURNEY PACE

Florio Transue Leading Field in Ohio Amateur Meet at Akron.

By The Associated Press

AKRON O July 13—Battle for places in the championship flight of the twenty ninth state amateur golf championship was continued this morning over the fairways of the Portage Country club when 183 players started the second and final 18 hole qualifying round.

By nightfall championship hopes of all but 32 of this number will have been left shattered on the rolling terrain

Two university players yesterday showed the way over the first round Johnny Florio of Columbus a member of the Ohio State team state champion in 1929 and Oliver N Transue of Canton who wears the blue of Yale each turned in par breaking totals of 70 to lead their nearest opponents by two strokes

Florio and Transue both had chances to give Portage members a score to shoot at for years to come but both were unfortunate with their putter especially Florio On no less than seven holes the Ohio State star was putting for birdies with the pellet hanging on the lip of the cup. Transue too failed to run down several putts that would have decreased his score

It Probably Doesn't Look So Funny Now

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO July 13—Al Spohrer the Boston Braves baldheaded catcher probably will pick his spots hereafter when he laughs on a baseball field

Spohrer got large amusement when the lady fans cheered Pat Malone as the Cub pitcher went to bat with two out in the ninth inning yesterday He removed his mask and glove and daintily applauded as the Altoona Irishman approached the plate

Malone scowled and let go at the first pitch by Ben Cantwell driving the ball to left center for a single Successive hits by Herman and English sent him home with the winning run—which failed to squeeze any applause from Spohrer

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK

How About Trading?

Well Mike I'm needing a good shortstop to bolster my infield How about swapping that extra pitcher and outfielder of mine for the spare infielder you have been using to warm the bench?

Such a request as the above has not been heard in connection with Marion softball but the subject of a possible rule change that would allow such tactics has been suggested several times recently to the author of this column It apparently is the belief that should the trading of players in the Commercial and Industrial leagues be allowed it would make for more even competition all through the season instead of having one or two teams make a walkaway of the race by collecting an aggregation of fence busters before the season gets under way Of course the race is not a walkaway in either circuit this season but it has been many times in the past and will be many times again as long as the present rules are in effect

The suggestion that player trading be allowed will undoubtedly raise a storm of protest from some quarters Many will insist this is strictly amateur softball in Marion played purely for recreation and that trading players is not to be even considered

Recreation Is It?

So it's recreation is it when a player will come tearing in home with the winning tally with a smashing dive that carries with it no regard whatever for the safety of either himself or an opposing catcher If that's playing solely for fun I've misinterpreted Mr Webster's definition

Such an argument would have been fine about three years ago Softball was possibly played only for recreation then It is now to some extent but whether anyone cares to admit it it is played now to win There are numerous instances of fast ones being pulled to win ball games that wouldn't be used were the games being played solely for recreation

But that's beside the question What I started to get at was that several cities are using the player trading system keeping it under close supervision and making trades receive the sanction of the authorities in charge There is no reason why it couldn't be adopted here in the Commercial and Industrial circuits For obvious reasons it would be taboo in the two Sunday school circuits

No Action Asked

There has been no official broaching of the subject to the city commission I have a hunch though that it would meet with approval from the managers of the various teams. The teams are playing ball to win now One might as well admit that fact and do everything within reason to make the races as interesting all through the campaign as possible

Trading players would help to accomplish that end Even if the game were being played solely for the recreation there still would be no reason why player trading could not exist without detriment to the game

Anyway—that's my story and I'm sticking to it!

MINOR LEAGUES IN DESPERATE STRAITS AS SUPPORT FAILS

Three-Eye Loop Loses Decatur; Cotton States Ready To Toss in Sponge

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO July 13—Sagging and punch goofy minor league baseball today in several sections appeared about to go down for a long count

Cotton States league after struggling against lack of attendance almost from the start of the season failed to obtain a loan of $1,000 from the committee appointed at West Baden Ind last winter to watch over the minors and announced it would start to wind up its affairs today

The Three Eye league a strong class B organization for more than 30 years lost its Decatur Ill member last night and the Springfield, Ill franchise appeared likely to be forfeited

Decatur opening the season with an indebtedness of $13,000 saw its deficit grow to $15,000 and decided to quit.

Another midwestern loop the Central league recently lost South Bend Ind The Mississippi Valley league another old timer in the middlewest at several more has considered abandoning its schedule and may not attempt one next year The Eastern league also has been reported in bad shape

When the protective committee was appointed during the joint major league meeting at West Baden it was pointed out that in 1910 more than 50 minor leagues operated but that not more than 20 would open in 1932

Radio broadcasts and other attractions have no serious hold into attendance figures in the majors and big minors but split seasons, and night baseball involving purchase of expensive equipment, have failed to help the little leagues enough

One beam of light in the gloom however appeared at Birmingham Ala when a ballot on Sunday baseball showed a favorable vote of about two to one Its opponents claimed it was in violation of an old state law The vote however indicated an interest in the game
